

OFFICIAL COLLABORATIONS OF CHOLISTAN UNIVERSITY OF VETERINARY AND ANIMAL SCIENCES, BAHAWALPUR

YEAR WISE DISTRIBUTION OF UNIVERSITY OFFICIAL AGREEMENTS

ABOUT US

Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur, is a relatively new public sector university recognized by the Higher Education Commission (HEC) and inaugurated in 2018. Established with the technical collaboration of Selçuk University, Turkey, CUVAS aims to promote and strengthen the livestock, poultry, and allied industries in Southern Punjab and beyond.

In just a few years, CUVAS has made remarkable progress. Its key strengths include a highly qualified faculty—many with advanced degrees from renowned international institutions—and its strategic location in Southern Punjab, a region rich in livestock and biodiversity. Its proximity to the Cholistan Desert, with its unique culture and livestock practices, further enhances its potential for groundbreaking research and sustainable development.

As emphasized by HEC, universities play a crucial role in creating a positive community impact through partnerships with the public and private sectors. To this end, CUVAS has established strong linkages with national and international organizations. These collaborations not only enhance teaching, research, and services but also provide valuable opportunities for students, such as internships and skill development programs.

This brochure offers a glimpse into the official agreements signed by CUVAS with various organizations. These partnerships reflect the university's commitment to academic excellence, innovation, and community engagement, driving progress for its students, faculty, and the broader region.

STRATEGIC COLLABORATIONS

Importance of Partnerships in Education and Research

- CUVAS is dedicated to fostering partnerships that enhance the quality of education and research. By collaborating with esteemed institutions, the university has been able to develop innovative solutions for regional and global challenges.

CUVAS's Vision for Collaborative Growth

- The university seeks to create a network of strategic alliances with both public and private organizations to support academic advancement, industry-relevant training, and community-focused research.

SIGNING OF MOU WITH ZHEJIANG UNIVERSITY OF AGRICULTURE AND FORESTRY, ZHEJIANG, CHINA

KEY INITIATIVES (OUTCOMES) OF THE UNIVERSITY LINKAGES

◆ CENTER FOR VENOMOUS AND TOXICOLOGY RESEARCH

In line with the MoU between CUVAS and Government College University (GCU), Lahore, the Center for Venomous and Toxicology Research was inaugurated on December 28, 2024. The center, under the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology, aims to advance research in venom and toxicology.

The ceremony was led by Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz, Vice Chancellor of CUVAS, who highlighted the center's role in fostering innovative research and academic collaboration between the two universities. This new facility marks a significant step forward in advancing scientific studies in pharmacology and toxicology.

ONE HEALTH LAB ◆

As a result of the MoU signed between CUVAS and Zhejiang A&F University on November 6, 2024, the Belt and Road International Joint Laboratory for One Health and Food Safety was inaugurated at CUVAS.

Located in the Veterinary Teaching Hospital and administratively overseen by the Department of Microbiology, the lab aims to advance research and collaboration in one health and food safety.

The inauguration ceremony was led by Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz, Vice Chancellor of CUVAS, alongside the Chairman of the Department of Microbiology, Dr. Faisal Siddique. This initiative reflects a significant step in strengthening research and global academic partnerships.

SEMEN PRODUCTION UNIT (SPU)

A PUBLIC-PRIVATE LINKAGE, ACHIEVEMENT AND SUCCESS STORY

The Semen Production Unit (SPU) at Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences, Bahawalpur, established in 2024 through a public-private partnership with the Sahiwal Cattle Breeding Society (SCBS), has rapidly emerged as a successful model for genetic improvement in Pakistan's livestock sector. Operating under stringent quality control, biosecurity, and animal welfare standards, the unit produces high-quality semen marketed under the brand Ideal Genetics Pakistan (IGP). All bulls maintained at the facility are formally registered with the Livestock Services Breeding Authority (LSBA), ensuring verified pedigree, performance records, and full compliance with national breeding regulations.

At present, the SPU houses 12 elite breeding bulls, carefully selected for superior genetic traits and semen motility exceeding 80%. With a planned expansion to 30 bulls in the near future, the unit currently produces and markets approximately 7,000-8,000 semen straws per month. Consistently positive field feedback from farmers and breeders highlights improved fertility rates, enhanced productivity, and overall better herd performance—clear indicators of the unit's impact and success.

This achievement is driven by a team of highly qualified and skilled professionals committed to science-based breeding, innovation, and continuous farmer support. Looking ahead, the SPU is preparing to introduce advanced reproductive technologies, including In-Vitro Fertilization (IVF), to further accelerate genetic gains, conserve valuable indigenous breeds, and strengthen national livestock productivity. In parallel, the unit continues to serve as a vital training and research platform for students, veterinarians, and farmers, reinforcing its role as a centre of excellence in livestock development.
